

Monday, November 12, 2001

LEWIS J. ADESSO

Lewis J. Adesso, 88, of 137 Hawthorne Place, died unexpectedly on Saturday, November 10, 2001 at the Cayuga Medical Center at Ithaca. He was born in Watkins Glen, son of the late John and Mary Rose Adesso.

Lew was truly the ambassador of golf in Central New York for over 65 years. He started his golf career as a caddy at the Glen Springs Hotel and Resort, moving on to become head caddy master and assistant pro and then served as assistant pro at the Corning Country Club. In 1935 Lew became head pro at Newman Park Golf Course and would hold that position for 45 years until his retirement in 1980. His 65 year membership in PGA Central New York section is the longest of any pro. During his remarkable career he has won countless awards on the local, state and national level for his commitment to teaching and to youth of golf. In 1987 Lew became the inaugural inductee into the Central New York PGA Hall of Fame. In addition to his numerous PGA memberships he was also a member of the Immaculate Conception Church, Knights of Columbus, Elks and V.F.W. Post 961. He served with the Army Air Corps during WW II.

Lew is survived by his wife of 57 years, Mary Parisella Adesso; his daughters, Mary Rose Macdonald of Buffalo and Anne Adesso of Ithaca; his grandchildren, Scott Macdonald, Melisa (Richard) Ersing and Heather (Joseph) Fredericks and his great grandson, Robert Fredericks. He is also survived by his brother, James Adesso of Watkins Glen and his sister, Camelia Cuoco of Miami and several nieces and nephews. In addition to his parents, he was predeceased by his brothers, John, Bruno and Mose Adesso and his sister, Lena Cecchini.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated by Rev. Leo Reinhardt on Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at the Immaculate Conception Church. Burial will follow in Calvary Cemetery. Friends may call today (Monday) from 4-7 p.m. at the Bangs Funeral Home. In lieu of flowers donations in Lew's memory may be directed to the Immaculate Conception School or to the charity of ones choice.

Retrieved on 11-4-02 from www :

<http://ithacajournal.com/news/stories/20011112/obituaries/1177083.html>

MRS. EDMUND BLANCHARD

"Mrs. Mary Irvin Blanchard, wife of the late Edmund Blanchard, died at the Glen Springs Sanitarium, Watkins, N. Y., last Friday afternoon after a long illness of nervous prostration and heart failure. Several years ago while spending the winter in Boston with her family Mrs. Blanchard witnessed and narrowly escaped a terrible explosion by which a number of persons were killed. The shock was a most serious one and from it dated her failing health. Last fall she went to the sanitarium at Watkins where she improved so steadily that she was able to come home in February. Then she was so cheery and animated that her friends were encouraged to believe that her recovery was permanent but it was only temporary and she returned to the sanitarium. A week ago, Monday, she became so much worse that her family were summoned and with her when she passed away were her daughter Anna and her son Frederick.

Mrs. Blanchard was Mary Fisher Irvin, youngest daughter of John Irvin, who in his life time was a prominent citizen of the town. He was for many years connected with the Howard iron works and it was due his and Judge Rhoads' sagacious management, as trustees, that the Thomas estate assumed its present proportions. Her mother was Anna Harris Linn, a daughter of the Rev. James Linn, and a granddaughter of James Harris, one of the founders of the town. She was born 62 years ago at Nelson, in Kentucky, where her father, Harris Linn, and Mordecai Miller were then running an iron furnace. She was educated at the old Jacksonville and Bellefonte academies and with the exception of a few years her entire life was spent in this place. In 1869 she was married to Edmund Blanchard, senior member of the law firm of E. and E. M. Blanchard. Mr. Blanchard died in 1886 of heart disease and soon after Mrs. Blanchard disposed of the old homestead, and purchased property on Linn street, where with her family she has since resided.

Of Quaker and Presbyterian ancestry, she was pre-eminently a woman of that type, refined, quiet and forceful. Endowed with an attractive personality and a very pleasant disposition she had rare social qualifications and was a great favorite with her many kin. Intelligent, and gifted with a good soprano voice she was a most helpful member of the societies to which she belonged. For many years there was not a charitable concert or entertainments given in the town without her assistance and it was always most cheerfully accorded. She was an ardent worker in her own church and until her health failed always took an active interest in the music of the services. Surviving her are her four children, Rebecca, Anna and Christina, at home, and Frederick, who now makes his home in Chicago where he is employed by the Illinois Steel Company, and her only sister, Mrs. Joseph Bright, of Overbrook.

Her body arrived in town on Saturday morning and was taken to the family home where funeral services were held on Monday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. D. Laurie officiated and the pall bearers were Messrs Thos. Beaver, Wallace Gephart, Edward L. Hoy, John Blanchard, J. Harris Hoy and Edmund Blanchard."

Retrieved on 11-4-02 from WWW:

<http://bellefonte.topcities.com/citizens/B/page29.html>

KELLER-TUTCHELL

Pretty Home Wedding at J. H. DOCKING's Thursday J. Wilber KELLER of West Bergen and Miss Helen Elizabeth TUTCHELL, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George TUTCHELL of Lathrop avenue, were married on Thursday afternoon at 3 0'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. John H. DOCKING on the LeRoy Pavilion road. The ceremony which was performed by Rev. Evan M. JONES of the Presbyterian church, was witnessed by about thirty relatives and friends of the bride and groom. The house was prettily decorated in green, in keeping with the holiday season, the couple standing before the fireplace in the living room during the ceremony. They were unattended. The bride wore a gown of cream crepe meteor with georgette and bead trimming, and she carried roses. Her going-away dress was of blue with hat to match. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served, eight being seated at the bride's table. Mr. and Mrs. KELLER left later for a wedding trip to Idaho, to visit a brother of the groom and upon their return they will reside on the farm of the groom at West Bergen. The groom is a most estimable young man. The bride is a graduate of the Le Roy high school and Mechanics Institute, Rochester. For nearly a year she has been dietitian at the Glen Springs Sanitarium at Watkins, resigning her position a short time ago.

Retrieved on 11-4-02 from www:

<http://newspaperabstracts.com/NY/Genesee/1921/JAN.html>

Name: Bill Leffingwell
Address: Washington DC
Telephone:
FAX:
Email: bleffingwell@asbcm.com
Date: 8/24/99
Time: 8:24:34 AM

Comments
I am not a collector but I am looking for a particular bottle for my father from the dairy that our family owned in the twenties and thirties in Watkins Glen, NY. The dairy is the Glen Springs Dairy which supplied dairy products to the Glen Springs Hotel. If anyone has one or knows of one please let me know. Thank you. Bill Leffingwell, Jr. bleffingwell@asbcm.com

Retrieved on 11-4-02 from www :
<http://www.kippfamily.com/bottles/kippgrapevine.htm>

Swan, John M. (John Mumford), 1870-1949.

Notes on the lectures on the theory and practice of medicine delivered to the medical class of the University of Pennsylvania by William Pepper, M.D., L.L.D., 1891-1893 / J.M. Swan.

Biography

John Mumford Swan was born 23 Jan. 1870 in Newport, R.I. He died on 22 Nov. 1949 in Rochester, N.Y. He received his M.D. from the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1893 and was a Resident Physician at Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia (1894-1895). The American Board of Internal Medicine specialty certified him in 1937.

Swan's early medical career was spent in Philadelphia. He was Dispensary Physician (1896-1908) at Presbyterian Hospital and a Pathologist at Episcopal (1896-1897) and St. Mary's Hospitals (1903-1904), before serving as Director of the Laboratories of the American Oncologic Hospital (1908-1910). He also held several teaching positions, including Assistant Demonstrator of Anatomy (1895-1903) and Demonstrator of Osteology (1900-1904) at the University of Pennsylvania; Instructor in Clinical Pathology and Tropical Medicine (1904-1910) at the Philadelphia Polyclinic; and Associate Professor of Clinical Medicine (1910-1911) at the Medico-Chirurgical College.

Swan moved to Watkins, N.Y., to serve as Medical Director of the Glen Springs (1910-1911). He joined the U.S. Army Medical Corps (1915-1919) and served at Base Hospital no. 19 in France during World War I. After the war, Swan was sent by the Red Cross to the Dominican Republic and Haiti to investigate health problems (1919-1920). Swan finally settled in Rochester, N.Y., where he established private practice and served as Staff Physician (1921-1939) and Consulting Physician (1940-1943) to Park Avenue Hospital.

An author of many medical articles and anatomy manuals for students, Swan's biggest literary achievement was the text, Prescription Writing & Formulary (1910).

Swan was a founding member and President (1920-1921) of the American Society of Tropical Medicine. He was also a member of many other professional societies, including the American Clinical and Climatological Association, the American College of Physicians, the American Medical Association, and the Medical Society of the State of New York. He was elected a Fellow of the College of Physicians in 1900.

William Pepper was born in Philadelphia on 21 August 1843 to William and Sarah (Platt) Pepper. He died in Pleasanton, Calif. on 28 July 1898. After receiving an A.B. (1862), M.D. (1864) and A.M. (1865) from the University of Pennsylvania, he served as Resident Physician at Pennsylvania Hospital (1865-1866), Visiting Physician to Philadelphia Hospital (1867-1884), Physician to the Lincoln Institute (1867-1870), and Visiting Physician to Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (1870-1872). He also served as Curator and Pathologist of the Pennsylvania Hospital (1866-1870) and the Philadelphia Hospital (1867-1871). At the University of Pennsylvania he held the following positions: Lecturer on Morbid Anatomy (1868-1870), Clinical Medicine (1870-1874), and Physical Diagnosis (1871-1873) and Professor of Clinical Medicine (1874-1884) and of the Theory and Practice of Medicine (1884-1898) and University Provost (1880-1894). In 1874, he founded the University Hospital, the first American hospital to be fully staffed by medical school faculty and students. He also founded the American Climatological Society (1884) and served as its President (1886). He also was President of the American Clinical Association (1886) and the Association of American Physicians (1891). A Fellow of the American Medical Association, he served on their Executive Committee. Pepper was elected a Fellow of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia on 1 Apr. 1868.

Scope and Contents

Five volumes of lecture notes on the practice of medicine delivered by William Pepper at the University of Pennsylvania during the 1891-1892 and 1892-1893 sessions. Topics include infectious diseases, eruptive diseases, diseases of the respiratory and circulatory systems, fevers, and diseases of the digestive and urinary tracts.

Provenance

Presented to the College of Physicians of Philadelphia by the author.
1891-1893.

1/02/2001

Call no. 10a/326

Acc.159461-5

(Hirsch 783)

05/15/1943

Swan, John M. (John Mumford), 1870-1949.

Notes on the lectures on the theory and practice of medicine delivered to the medical class of the University of

Pennsylvania by William Pepper, M.D., L.L.D., 1891-1893 /

J.M. Swan.

1 Notes on lectures dated 5 Oct. to 1 Dec. 1891 on the topics of typhus fever, epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis, relapsing fever, malarial diseases, yellow fever, Asiatic cholera, diphtheria, erysipelas, acute miliary tuberculosis, influenza, eruptive fevers, measles, rubella, scarlet fever, small pox, chicken pox, mumps, and whooping cough.

2 Notes on lectures dated 1 Dec. 1891 to 2 Feb. 1892 on the topics of whooping cough, respiratory diseases, laryngitis, croup, bronchitis, emphysema, asthma, pneumonia, pulmonary tuberculosis, functional diseases of the heart, organic diseases of the heart, pericarditis, and endocarditis.

3 Notes on lectures dated 4 Feb. to 31 Mar. 1892 on the topics of chronic valvular disease, alterations in heart size, hypertrophy, fatty degeneration of the heart, diseases of the arteries, arterial sclerosis, aneurism, diseases of the blood, organic anemias, chlorosis, leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, diseases of the urinary organs, relation of diabetes to gout and rheumatism, diuresis, morbid ingredients in the urine, displacement of the kidneys, nephritis, and Bright's disease.

4 Notes on lectures dated 4 Oct. 1892 to 2 Feb. 1893 on the topics of fever, typhoid fever, ephemeral fever, break bone fever, dysentery, rheumatism, diseases of the digestive tract, affections of the month, stomatitis, diseases of the tonsils, affections of the pharynx, lesions of the esophagus, diseases of the stomach, gastritis, dyspepsia, gastralgia, ulcers, and cancer.

5 Notes on lectures dated 6 to 14 Feb. 1893 on the topics of dilatation of the stomach, hemorrhage of the stomach, diseases of the intestines, diarrhea, cholera infantum, cholera morbus, intestinal catarrh, typhlitis, and appendicitis.

1891-1893.

1/02/2001

Retrieved on 11-4-02 from www:

http://www.collphyphil.org/FIND\_AID/S/swanjm10a\_326.htm